

Copyright Notice

Last Updated: 11 July 2026

This Copyright Notice explains the ownership of intellectual property displayed on the WebOre website and the conditions under which our content may be used.

By accessing or using our website, you agree to respect the intellectual property rights described below.

1. Copyright Ownership

Unless otherwise stated, all content available on the WebOre website is the exclusive property of WebOre and is protected under applicable copyright laws.

This includes, but is not limited to:

- Website Design
 - Website Layout
 - Source Code
 - HTML, CSS & JavaScript Code
 - UI/UX Designs
 - Graphics
 - Logos
 - Icons
 - Images created by WebOre
 - Animations
 - Videos
 - Text Content
 - Documentation
 - Blog Articles
 - Project Templates
 - Branding Materials
-

2. Permitted Use

Visitors may:

- Browse our website.
- View our content for personal and non-commercial purposes.
- Contact us regarding our services.

No other rights are granted unless expressly stated.

3. Restrictions

Without prior written permission from WebOre, you may not:

- Copy or reproduce our website or its content.
 - Redistribute our content.
 - Modify our designs or source code.
 - Sell, license, or commercially exploit our work.
 - Remove or alter copyright notices.
 - Use our logo, branding, or trademarks in a misleading manner.
 - Create derivative works based on our protected content.
-

4. Client Projects

Upon full payment and unless otherwise agreed in writing:

- The client receives ownership of the final website deliverables created specifically for their project.
 - WebOre retains ownership of its internal tools, reusable code libraries, templates, frameworks, and design systems used during development.
 - Third-party assets remain subject to their respective licenses.
-

5. Third-Party Content

Some content on our website may belong to third parties, including:

- Fonts
- Icons
- Stock Images

- Plugins
- Libraries
- Open-Source Software

Such content remains the property of its respective owners and is governed by their applicable licenses.

6. Trademark

"WebOre", our logo, slogans, and other brand elements are valuable business assets.

They may not be used, copied, or represented without prior written permission from WebOre.

If any trademarks are registered in the future, this policy will apply to those registered marks as well.

7. Copyright Infringement

If you believe that any material published on the WebOre website infringes your copyright, please contact us with:

- Your full name
- Contact information
- Description of the copyrighted work
- URL of the allegedly infringing material
- Evidence supporting your claim

We will review legitimate requests promptly and take appropriate action where required.

8. Enforcement

WebOre reserves the right to take appropriate legal action against any unauthorized copying, reproduction, distribution, or misuse of its intellectual property, as permitted under applicable law.

9. Changes to This Notice

WebOre may update this Copyright Notice from time to time.

Any changes become effective immediately upon publication on our website.

10. Contact Us

For copyright-related questions or notices, please contact:

WebOre

✉ Email: webore1007@gmail.com