

Refund & Cancellation Policy

Last Updated: 11 July 2026

At WebOre, we strive to provide high-quality web design and development services. Please read our Refund & Cancellation Policy carefully before purchasing any of our services.

1. Project Cancellation

Clients may request to cancel a project by contacting us in writing via email.

Cancellation requests will be handled according to the stage of the project.

2. Before Work Begins

If the project is cancelled before any work has started, the client may be eligible for a full refund of any advance payment, unless otherwise agreed.

3. After Work Has Started

If work has already begun, refunds will be based on the amount of work completed.

Examples:

- Planning completed → Planning charges may apply.
- Design completed → Design charges may apply.
- Development completed → Charges will reflect the completed work.

Any remaining balance, if applicable, will be refunded.

4. Completed Projects

Once a project has been completed, approved by the client, and the final files or website have been delivered, no refunds will be provided.

5. Digital Services

Because WebOre provides digital products and services, completed work cannot be returned. Therefore, refunds are generally not available after delivery.

6. Client Delays

If the client does not provide required content, approvals, or communication for 30 consecutive days, the project may be placed on hold.

If there is no response for 90 consecutive days, WebOre reserves the right to close the project. Any payments made for work already completed are non-refundable.

7. Change of Mind

Refunds will not be issued solely because:

- The client changed their mind.
 - The client no longer requires the website.
 - The client decides to hire another developer after work has started.

8. Third-Party Costs

Payments made for third-party services such as:

- Domain registration
- Web hosting

- Premium plugins
- Premium themes
- Software licenses
- API subscriptions

are non-refundable, as these are paid to external providers.

9. Subscription Services (If Offered)

If WebOre provides ongoing maintenance, hosting, or subscription-based services:

- Clients may cancel future renewals by providing written notice before the next billing cycle.
 - Fees already paid for the current billing period are generally non-refundable unless required by applicable law.

10. Exceptional Circumstances

WebOre may choose to issue a partial or full refund in exceptional cases at its sole discretion.
